

Helping Families Become More Confident
in Raising Children

Family Networks Project seeks BabyNet families

As a parent of a young child with different needs and abilities, you know that every day brings new discoveries, and sometimes, new challenges.

Our goal, through the Family Networks Project, is to understand more about how we can help support strong families in raising their children, and we need your help.

We are seeking BabyNet families of young children (15-22 months old) who are interested in taking part in our Family Networks Project.

Eligible families are asked to participate for one year. During that time, project staff will visit families in their homes at the beginning, middle, and end of the project to collect information on how parents and children are doing. For their time, families will receive WalMart gift cards.

In addition, some families will also receive 10 sessions of in-home parent consultation to help you meet the goals you set for your child.
