First Steps works but we need to expand our reach to ensure that all children are ready.

children birth to five

37%

of young children live in poverty or low-income households

60%

of kindergarteners are considered "not ready" for school

PROVEN RESULTS

A 2019 study found that children who received First Steps local partnership services were:

74% more likely to score at the highest level on the Kindergarten Readiness Assessment

34% less likely to be chronically absent in kindergarten

As a new mom, the First Steps scholarship has been such a blessing for my family. My child has learned so much socially and academically. I am able to work part time and go back to school and further my career. I am so grateful.

ANNUAL REPORT 2024-2025

OUR MISSION

Empower Edgefield County families and caregivers to prepare children for school success by delivering, enhancing, and expanding high-quality early childhood services.

Candi Lalonde
Executive Director

Henry Ford, founder of the Ford Motor Company, said “Coming together is a beginning. Keeping together is progress. Working together is success.” In 1999, a group of more than 100 people came together who were interested in a better future for the youngest members of Edgefield County and Edgefield County First Steps was born.

Through the years, financial cuts came often, eventually reducing our budget to just over a third of what we started with. We fought for every program, made do with what we had, and kept together for the children we served. Eventually, the tide turned, funding began to increase, and we were able to offer more programs and services for our families.

Now, 25 years later, we are a resource for families with young children, but it would not have been possible without all of us working together. The incredible partnerships we have developed through the years within our community and the relationships we have built with the families we serve are keys to our success.

Gail Jackson
Board Chair

Edgefield County First Steps is a local nonprofit that works collaboratively to ensure that all children start school ready to reach their highest potential. We operate as an independent nonprofit with a local board and staff. In 39 years of working in the Edgefield County School District, I have witnessed the benefits of the services that First Steps has provided to better prepare students for success in school. One of our components is to promote literacy through book distribution. Children in our county know our Executive Director as the "Book Lady" and I too share in the joy of watching her as she gifts books to these little people. She not only gives books but is most passionate about helping these preschoolers in any way possible. In the words of Dr. Seuss " You're never too old, too wacky, too wild, to pick up a book and read to a child". Our partnership is blessed to have the opportunity to be a valuable resource for preschool children.
