OUR MISSION

Collaborating with other entities, First Steps helps South Carolina families and caregivers prepare their children for school success by maximizing public and private community resources to deliver, enhance and expand high-quality early childhood services.

Dorothy M. Priester
Executive Director

Cherokee County First Steps had a successful year. Our commitment to outreach and family engagement were significant elements to our strategy. We concentrated on communication with families and the public by participating in 79 outreach events, meetings, presentations, education fairs and health fairs. The relationships built permitted staff to serve 10,863 children and adults. There were 19,856 books distributed to 2,115 children through Dolly Parton's Imagination Library Program; Triple P held 176 parenting sessions; LENA/Talk to Me provided 97 parent visits; and childcare providers received 20 hours of certified training. I wish to convey my heartfelt appreciation to all families, partners, board members, and staff for the integral roles you engaged in during this year. We look forward to our continued relationship in the next year and your assistance in preparing the children of Cherokee County for more remarkable success!

Dr. Arthur Brewton
Board Chair

Cherokee County First Steps Board of Directors supports children, families, and staff in reaching their full potential. We continued our work with families this past year and collaborated with community partners to promote family and community wellness. Our agency is committed to working with partners and parents to find solutions to the barriers to wholeness families are facing. The Board of Directors is committed to its own professional growth and improvement. The Board participates in training on governance and effective implementation of state and local policies, respective roles for committees, and expectations for effective leadership. Finally, staff are trained on their responsibilities by equipping them with the insight and tools to remain in compliance with policies. Cherokee County First Steps Board of Directors, staff, and our partners champion community collaboration and lifelong learning, including success in school and life for the children and families we serve.
